Floyd Artisan Trail

Floyd, Virginia

Venture deep into the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, where local artisans and agrarian cultures share their creative passions and open their studio doors and pasture gates for an authentic Floyd experience.

Visit local artisan studios, galleries & shops, farms & markets, restaurants & lodging sites. Learn more about skills handed down through generations, and embrace the contemporary art forms that have evolved in this unique region.

Meet potters, woodworkers, jewelers, glass artists, fine artists, photographers, beekeepers, farmers, and others - who look forward to sharing the story of their craft, art or tradition.

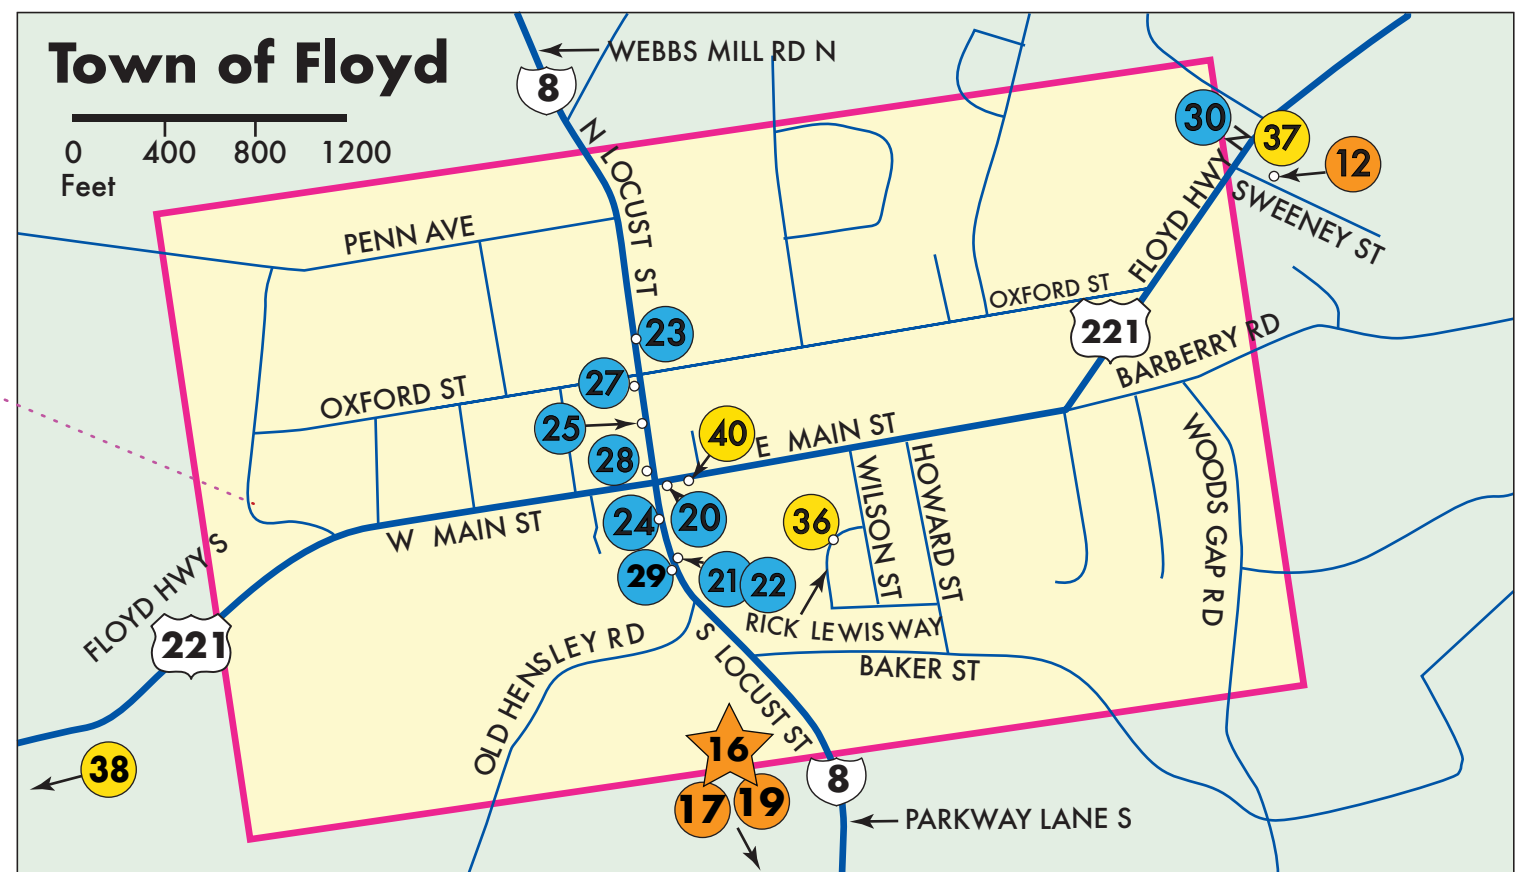

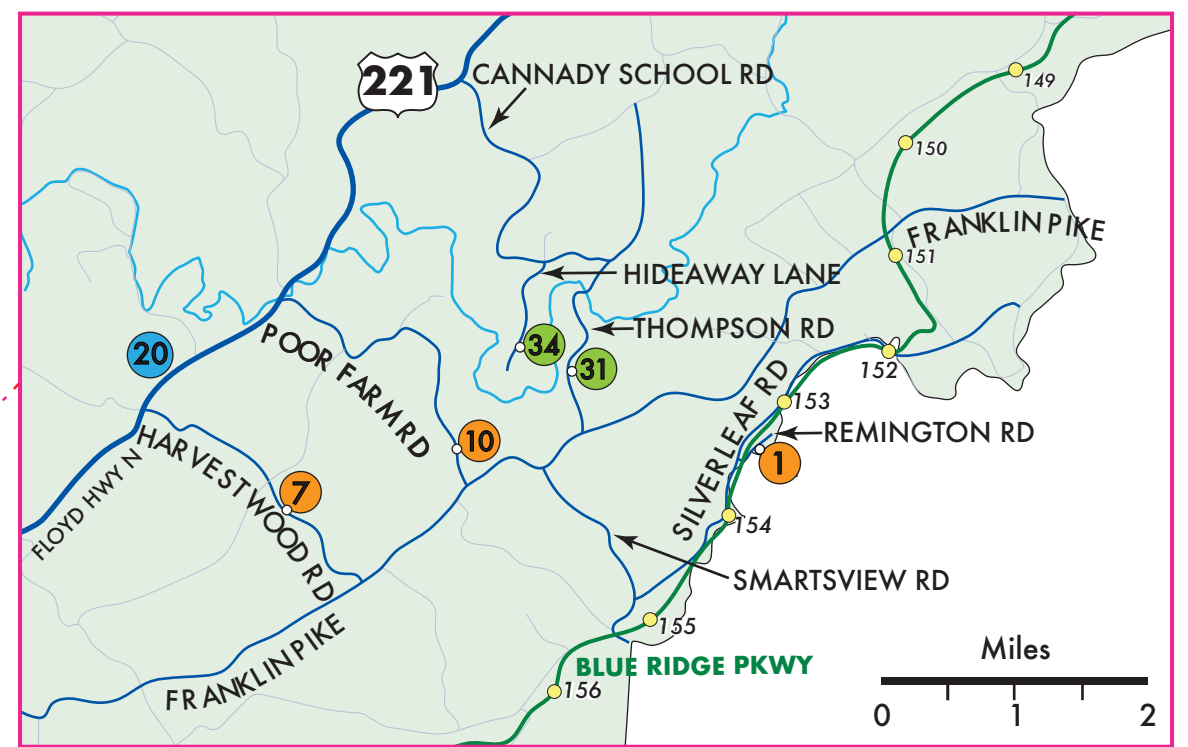

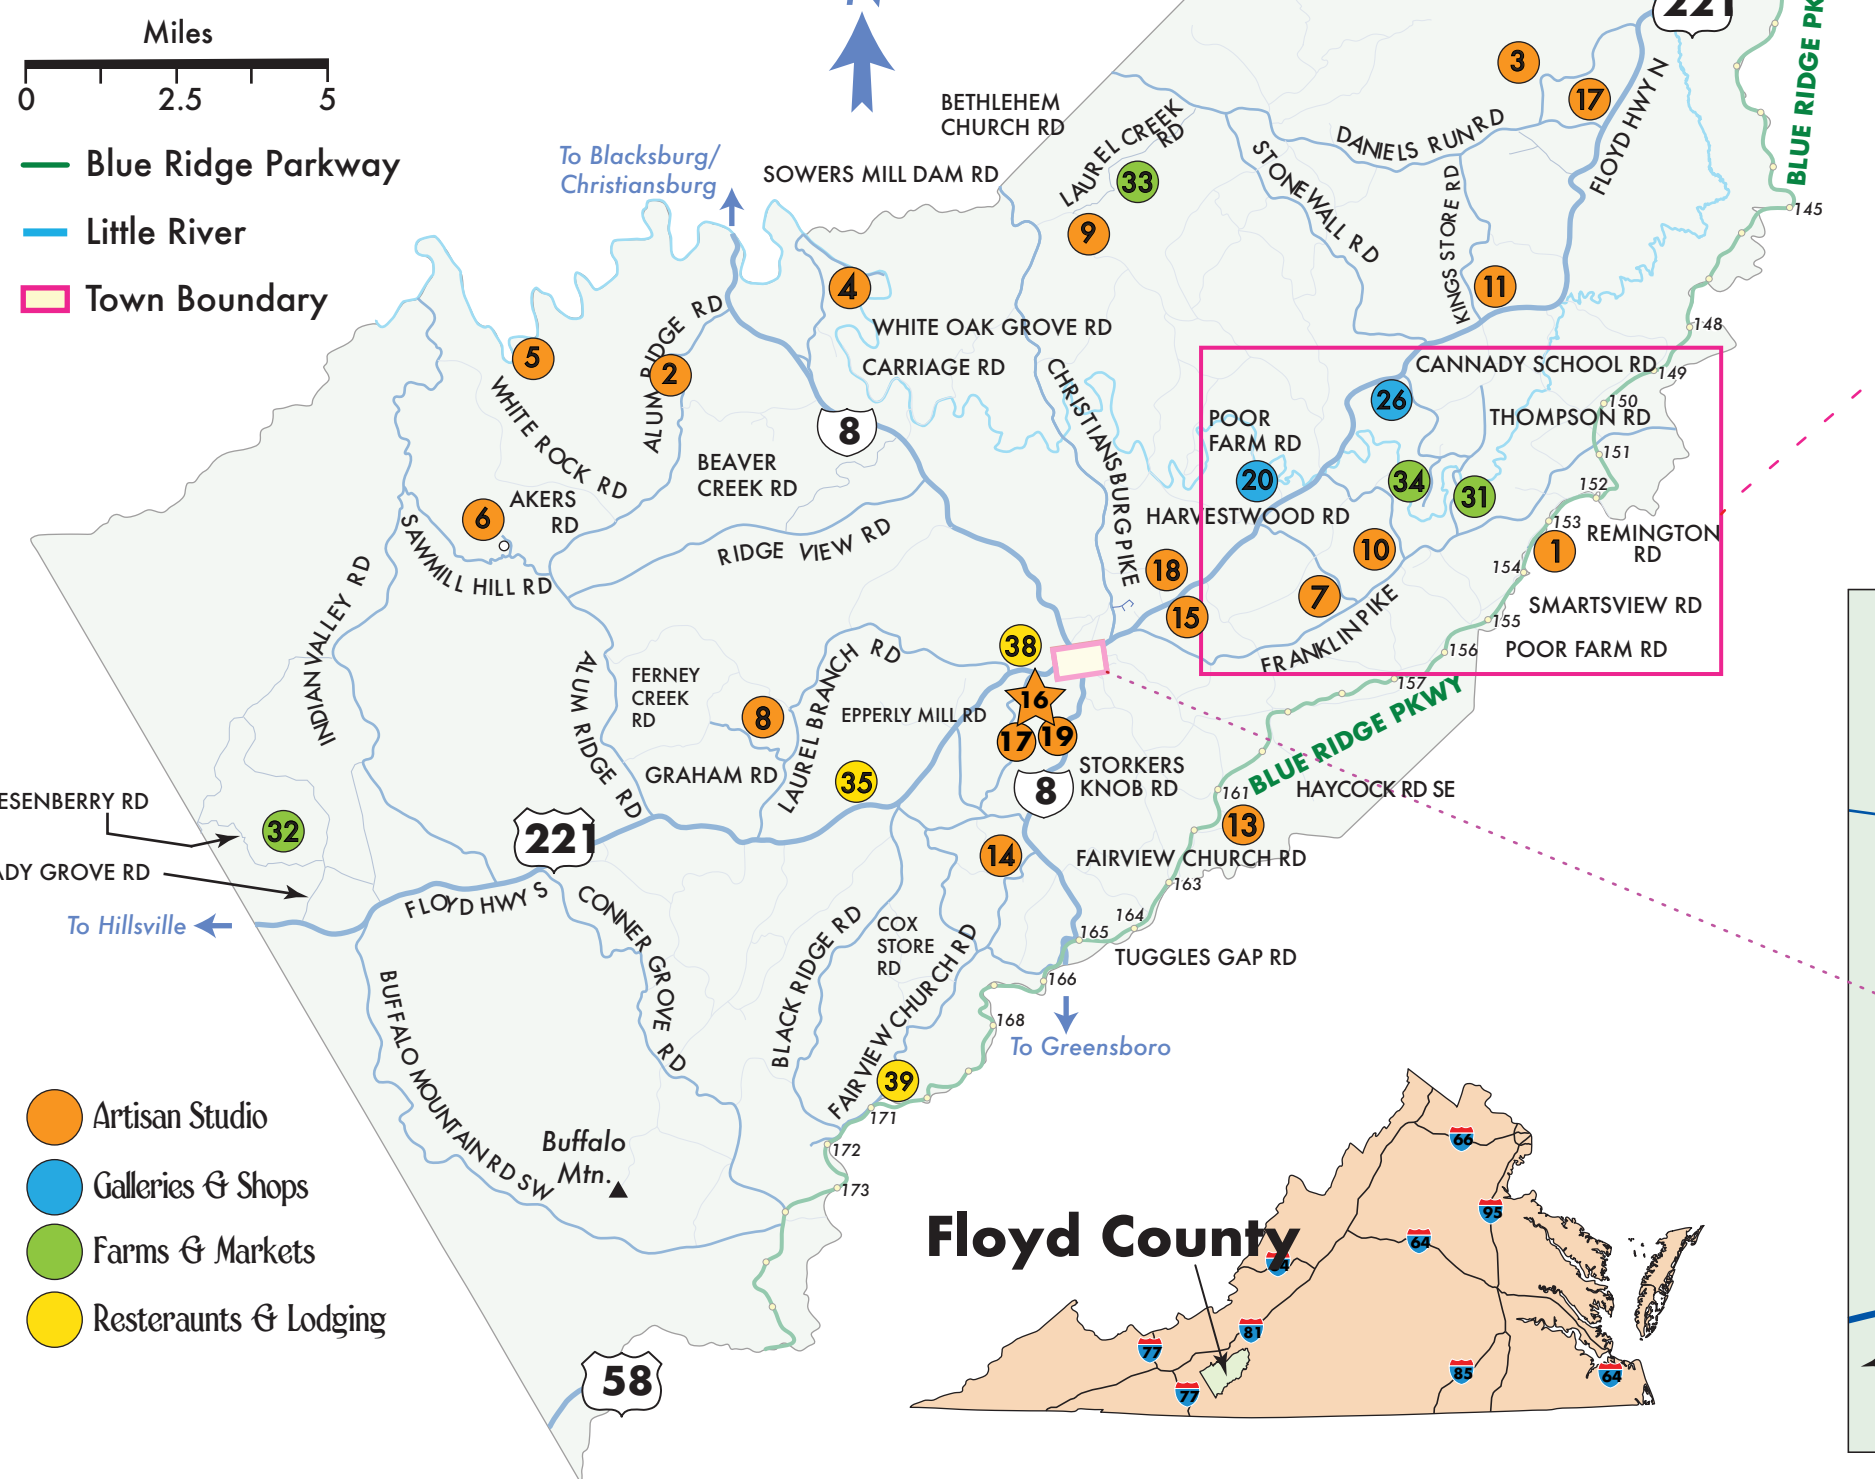

Save this as your guide for Floyd's creative community until next year's Artisan Trail!

The deep tradition of artisan crafts, music, and agriculture found in Floyd has provided the foundation for a vital and growing creative community. Over the years, Floyd has emerged as one of Virginia's most diverse artistic communities and has extended its participation and outreach to regional artistic efforts. These efforts have not only grown our own creative economy here in Floyd but have solidified it as a permanent keystone in Virginia's art scene. This Artisan Trail was originally inspired by 'Round the Mountain and their Artisan Trails of Virginia project.

With the support of our sponsors, The Floyd Center for the Arts, Citizens Telephone Cooperative, Hotel Floyd, 5 Mile Mountain Distillery, Buffalo Mountain Ziplines, Thomas & Wall Real Estate - The Artisan Trail continues to grow and remain a vital contributor to Floyd's creative community.
